CONSPICUOUSLY DRESSED
Newlyweds Attract Attention as They Stroll About Town.

Thursday forenoon, Leon A. Smith, aged 21, a draftsman, and Miss Elizabeth Gurnison, aged 24, and giving her previous occupation as that of a stenographer, called at the office of the town clerk and procured a marriage license. They were very anxious to have the knowledge of their visit withheld from the reporters and expected a pledge of secrecy from Town Clerk Benton.

They left the office and went straight to the rectory of St. Paul's church on Valley street and were united in marriage by the rector of the church, Rev. J. H. Townsend, at noon. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who also expressed their desire to the clerk to keep the knowledge of their visit a secret if possible, walked down street and into the B. & O. restaurant and dined. They then went on a sight-seeing tour of the principal streets of the city. Wherever they went attention was directed to them, as both were distinguished in appearance and dressed in style. Both were blondes and the coy bride maintained a firm grasp on the arm of her new husband.

The bride wore a traveling suit of green, and a gorgeous hat, adorned with ostrich plumes, and carried two white and one elegant yellow one. Mr. and Mrs. Smith went to the station early and awaited the arrival of the 2:15 train for Providence, which they boarded.

Main Street Over-Watered.

There has been complaint concerning the watering of Main street, on the paved section, of late, and prominent citizens do not see any necessity for such a lavish use of water.

When such a quantity of water is poured on the pavement, it makes it very disagreeable, especially for pedestrians who attempt to cross the street, as whizzing automobiles in passing up or down throw dirty water and other filth upon the garments of those who have to step in the middle of the street and permit autos to pass.

a bicycle, growled, "Do you suppose the superintendent of streets has given orders to have the street flooded in this manner?" He was trampling his mount along the sidewalk as the pavement's smooth surface was so wet as to make wheel riding dangerous.

In the afternoon a stylishly dressed woman, while attempting to cross Main street near the head of Railroad street was despatched with dirty water, mud and other filth because an automobile tooting its horn whizzed past her.

Many at Halloween Party.

The Halloween party given under the auspices of the L. C. H. A. Thursday evening in Knights of Pythias hall was a most enjoyable affair. There was a good attendance and those present thoroughly enjoyed the evening. An informal programme of vocal and instrumental music was rendered and refreshments were served.

Subdued Bridge Fire with Sand.

Ex-Selectman S. Arnold Peckham, while driving his automobile to North Windham, Wednesday afternoon between three and four o'clock, discovered that the bridge over the railroad at Peip's Crossing was on fire. A spark from a passing train had become lodged underneath in the woodwork, and the small fire was fanned to a brisk blaze by the fierce wind that was blowing. Peckham hurried out of his machine and vigorously applied liberal quantities of sand to the flames and laid the fire. He then procured water with which he finally subdued the fire that but for his alertness might have destroyed the bridge before assistance could be obtained.

Lost Tip of Finger.

John Davis, a man employed by the American Thread company, had the middle finger of his left hand caught in a machine Thursday forenoon and had it severed. He went to St. Joseph's hospital, where he received surgical aid.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodge on Wedding Trip.
Frank I. Dodge of this city and Miss Genevieve Fairchild of Westport, who were married Wednesday afternoon at Westport, will reside in this city on their return from their wedding trip. The groom is a clerk in one of the city's leading clothing stores.

Settled Out of Court.

The civil suit of W. H. King vs. Myron Knapp, both of North Windham, has been settled out of court. Knapp was alleged to have been driving for groceries, but Knapp claimed that the bill was not as large as King claimed. Knapp had money due him from the town of Windham for King on the highways and this was garnished in the sum of $35. Town Clerk Fenton paid over the amount due the plaintiff, who then withdrew the defendant, that was exempt from attachment. Attorney Samuel E. Harvey appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney P. J. Danahy represented the defendant.

Lightning Damages House.

The Holt place in Chaplin Center, owned by Ellen Howard, was struck by lightning during the hard thunder storm of Wednesday night. The extent of the damage was not known until several rooms; tore off plastering and broke a number of panes of glass. The inmates of the house were somewhat affected by the shock.

Short Calendar Session Today.

This morning there will be a short calendar session, at which the cases in the superior court here. The jury will go into session at 9 o'clock to hear the evidence against Sabino Ramato, held for the murder of Angelas Ramato of Putnam, whom it is alleged he stabbed.

DEER CONVICTED THEMSELVES.

Caught Poaching—Which Meant $10 to Frank P. Beckwith.

Frank P. Beckwith, who lives on the Franklin road just below South Windham, but in the town of Windham, has been greatly harassed of late by the pernicious activity of deer that have damaged a crop of buckwheat. He has entered a complaint to the board of selectmen.

Wednesday afternoon, James J. Tow and George H. Backus of the board of selectmen, accompanied by the ex-Selectman S. Arnold Peckham drove to the Beckwith place in Mr. Peckham's automobile and investigated the complaint. As they came within sight of the patch of buckwheat, they beheld four deer, a buck, two does and a fawn, calmly foraging upon the tender young shoots. When the deer saw the men they quietly moved away from the field.

The selectmen did not need any further proof to substantiate Mr. Beckwith's claim for damages, and accordingly allowed him $10.

Mr. William E. Strong and Captain T. Williams, registered, were visitors in Colchester, Wednesday.

Henry Powers of Durham, who is in charge of the building of the state road in Salem, was in town Tuesday.

Samuel N. Morgan, chairman of the republican town committee, and Daniel T. Williams, registrar, were in town Wednesday attending the gathering of the officials of the party in this county. A banquet was served at the Wauregan House.

A Convenient Rule.

The editor of a newspaper published in a small town frequently received from one of its citizens letters on municipal affairs which were always pertinent and worthy of publication, but which were punctuated in a way that was most peculiar. Meeting his correspondent on the street one day, he said: "That was an excellent letter I received from you this morning, Uncle Hugh, and I'm going to print it in this week's paper. But, tell me, what rule do you follow for punctuation?"

"Why," replied Uncle Hugh, "the same rule as I was taught when I was a boy. I put in a semicolon every twelve words and two commas between each pair of semicolons."

The Original Wedding Cake.

Our wedding cake is the remains of a custom whereby a Roman bride held in her left hand three wheat ears, and many centuries later an English bride wore on her head a chaplet of wheat. The attendant girls threw corn, either in grains or in small bits of biscuit or cake, upon the heads of the newly married couple, and the guests picked up the pieces and ate them. Such was the beginning of the wedding cake, which did not come into general use until the eighteenth century and was then composed of solid blocks laid together and fed all over with sugar so that when the outer crust was broken over the bride's head the cakes inside fell on the floor and they were then distributed among the company.

Nearly 800,000 tons of paper are annually manufactured in the United Kingdom.

MYSTIC

Double Wedding of Local Interest—Another Rural Route Planned—New Basketball Team.

Thursday evening at East Weymouth, Mass., a wedding of much interest to Mystic people took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bower Smith, when their two daughters were united in marriage. Miss Dora Elizabeth becoming the wife of Louis Edwin White of Mystic and Miss Pearl the wife of John Kern Grinholt. The ceremony was performed in the music room and the knots were tied by Rev. George Francis Dignin of Bromfield street Methodist church, Boston. Prof. Norman Earl White of Houlton, Me., acted as best man for his brother, while Albert Corey Smith, brother of the bride, acted as best man for Mr. Grinholt. Miss Letitia Albert Smith, sister of the brides, was maid of honor and gownned in white. The brides were dressed in white chiffon over blue messaline and carried white chrysanthemums. Attorney Benjamin Hewitt of Mystic, Herbert Whitman of South Weymouth, Harry B. MacKenzie of Mystic and Sidney Marland of Danielson were ushers. The brides' dresses were white messaline trimmed with duchesse lace and carried over shoulders bouquets of bridal roses. The house was decorated with oak leaves, chrysanthemums and pearls. The ceremony was held in the music room as the wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Clark's orchestra at 8 o'clock. The ceremony was performed under a canopy of oak leaves and chrysanthemums. After the ceremony a reception was held and a buffet breakfast served. The brides received gold, silver and cut glass. Mr. and Mrs. Grinholt will reside in Oregon and Mr. and Mrs. White will reside in Mystic, where Mr. White is treasurer and bookkeeper of the Mystic Industrial company. The gift of the grooms to their brides were pearls and diamond brooches and the gifts to the best man and ushers were amethyst and pearl scarfpins.

At Basketball Team Organized.

A meeting of the young men's association of the Catholic church a basketball team was formed and the following officers elected: Walter Shea, manager; James Galvin, assistant manager; James Foley, secretary; Edward McKane, treasurer; Adrian O'Sullivan, captain. The team will play its first game at the home of the team, Edward Denney of Stonington, referee. It is expected that the opening game will take place next week. The team is as follows: Kunkper and Gley, forwards; Clarence Wilcox, J. McKane, guards; C. Donahue, center. New suits have been received and a covering has been laid on the floor of the new hall and everything is now ready.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Judd were in East Weymouth Thursday attending the Smith-White and Smith-Grinholt weddings.

Helen Starkey chapter of St. Mark's church, was entertained by Mrs. Charles Haynes Thursday.

Cliff Hill has been in New York this week.

Harold Heath of New York is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heath.

Another R. F. D. Route.

Through the efforts of Postmaster Potter another rural delivery route is soon to be started, leaving here and going to Lantern Hill and thence back to East Weymouth and Quaker town and around through Quilnabaug, a distance of twenty-two miles. Since Mr. Potter has been postmaster the office has nearly doubled itself. One route was started over four years ago through Legyard and Quaker town and soon letter carriers will be located there.

Endorsement of Woman's College.

That the federation endorse the proposal for the creation of a woman's college in Connecticut was the suggestion contained in the report of the education committee, presented by Mrs. A. W. Gates of Willimantic in the absence of the chairman of that committee, Miss Jane Burbank. The report outlined the plans for a college in Connecticut and compared the same with the fact that nineteen states had already been offered; also that it was understood that New London stood ready to appropriate $20,000 for the purpose of founding such an institution. The convention unanimously voted to endorse the project.

Mrs. W. H. Phipps' Address.

Before the report of the nominating committee, which was the last business of the morning meeting, Mrs. Phipps, who had generously revised the report of the nominating committee, delivered her annual address as president. It was as follows:

The Year Reviewed.
At the close of a twelve month period every good business firm takes time for a careful inventory of results, and plans the future campaign. May I ask you, the Connecticut Federation of Women's clubs, to pause for a few moments and glance at the balance sheet of your assets and liabilities, and then with an unbiased judgment decide in your own mind whether our organization, or I may use the business term, our firm is on a solid foundation for success.

Have we met our obligations since the hour of adjournment in Cheshire in 1920, so that we can with sincerity and honesty open the campaign for another year?

If the question was simply a financial one, then our treasurer has already

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Federation of Women's Clubs Closes Annual Meeting—Election of Officers—Mrs. W. H. Phipps Re-elected President—Next Meeting to Be Held in Waterbury.

Inspiring as were the sessions of the Connecticut Federation of Women's clubs on the opening day of the convention, they in no way surpassed the two fine meetings of Thursday, when an increased number of delegates and visitors were present at the morning and afternoon meetings. The address of the closing day and all the features of the two excellent programmes were of such an attractive and varied nature as to hold the entire evening attention and the effect produced was given expression in the resolutions adopted in the closing minutes of the convention. It being therein stated the gathering had been unusually helpful in suggestion and a stimulus for further earnest effort. The Danielson convention has been written down as one of the most successful in the history of the federation.

Thursday Morning's Session.

Mrs. W. H. Phipps of Waterbury was in the presiding officer's chair at the call to order of the morning session, which was devoted in great part to a discussion of the proposed civil service law. It was marked by a special feature not listed on the programme, a discussion of the proposed Connecticut civil service law by Gen. W. A. Aiken of Norwich, and the delivering of the annual address by the president, Mrs. Phipps. At this meeting were Mrs. F. H. Dart of New London, who reported for the civil service committee, of which she is chairman, and Mrs. C. W. Shelton of Norwich, who reported the report for the health department, a paper of interesting facts and statistics.

Gen. William A. Aiken's Address.

General Aiken's address was followed with very close attention. It embodied an outline of the scope and possibilities of the proposed civil service law and a review by sections of the provisions of the bill that will be presented for the consideration of the next legislature. In its present form this desirable measure provides in its first section that the governor shall appoint a commission of three members to serve for terms of two, four and six years, under which arrangement there would always be two experienced members of the commission after the first two years of its existence. Not more than two members of this commission are to be of the same political party.

The purpose and powers of the commission, as at present provided for, were outlined in some detail by the speaker, who mentioned in reference to the government civil service laws and those of individual states, such as Massachusetts, as reasons why Connecticut should have such desirable statutes in operation. The provisions of the bill are such as to empower the proposed commission to classify state institutions and to provide for public and competitive tests on the part of applicants for positions, these tests to be either technical or physical. The fact that General Aiken has a record of twenty-five years' association with the national civil service commission, a member of its executive committee lent additional interest to his recital of the advantages that must accrue to this state through the passage of the proposed law.

Import of Conservation.

Conservation is a familiar term of late, but a knowledge of the possible breadth of its application has not yet been attained by many of us. I have only time to mention a few of the many avenues of opportunity that are opening before us. Each club can not enter them all, but will you not give the work of each department some measure of consideration, get your club to listen, and if possible render practical aid. If you need the help of any of the chairmen of committees, write to her, or better still, send her an invitation to visit you.

Means Strenuous Work.

The president of the General Federation, Mrs. Moore, said: "We have no platform unless it is the care of the women, children and the home." In the words of another: "Have you heard the call of the children and the future?" It means strenuous work, but quote again, "work is not a penalty, but an opportunity."

A college president at
